It's almost always a surprise to hear that you need fertility treatment to help create your family. And sometimes it's just as surprising to discover the costs involved in receiving that treatment. If you find yourself needing IVF but haven't had the time to budget for it, there's no need to compromise. We have partnered with Zip to help make fertility treatment more accessible. Zip's mission is to make finance fairer for everyone so it might be the right choice to help you get started sooner.

Zip is offering Genea patients a reusable account that lets them access treatment immediately and pay later. When using Zip at Genea, you get six months interest free* and you can pick a payment schedule that suits you - weekly, fortnightly or monthly.
